Do You Need a Criminal Defense Attorney?

If you are being investigated for or are already charged with committing a criminal offense, your freedom may be at stake. As your attorney, John Gromowsky will provide you the aggressive representation the defense of your freedom requires.

John Gromowsky is an experienced criminal defense attorney practicing in state and federal courts throughout the Kansas City metropolitan area. Formerly a state prosecutor, John knows how cases are investigated, charged, and prepared for trial. John now puts this experience to use representing clients charged with such crimes as murder, robbery, assault, drug distribution, drug possession, stealing, fraud, and white collar offenses.
